

Discover The Divine Truth

Picture 1: A Divinity Concept - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

Once there was a time when people were walking this planet knowing that they were a lot more than what we believe to be today. They were aware that each and every one of them was a king or a queen and that they lived in a kingdom of which they, who we today would consider everyday people, had full control over.

They were fully aware of the true power of human beings and knew about every secret of life and what life really was based upon. They were living their life knowing how powerful they really are.

For these people life was not a mystery at all and there were no hidden secrets, hidden places and dark sides in life for them. They had learned to live in full harmony with this planet and created the place that we would most likely call the paradise on earth.

Each and every one of them knew that they were divine and therefore were able to do whatever they chose to. They lived the life which we would even have a hard time to imagine and they could do whatever they wanted to do.

As they knew the truth and what life was about they knew that they were living gods on earth and many of them were able to do things which a lot of the people in our time would consider a wonder or mystery. The best of them were able to do things that would be impossible for us, living in the society we live in today, to even imagine. They knew what life was based up on and mastered the game of life. They knew the divine truth.

Like all the great empires of the past fell for reasons mostly unknown to us their empire fell as well. It is said that a few of them used their knowledge in a unwise manner and abused it to rule over the rest of them. They used their power to dissemble the knowledge and turned the knowledge and wisdom, which back then was open to and within reach for everyone, into a well hidden secret.

As it was impossible to completely abolish the knowledge from the earth, the people were seduced to forget and even deny it. The knowledge was hidden from us but the good of that era passed on clues from their time to ours for us to reveal and discover the divine truth.

They left clues in ancient texts, at places and areas, in occurrences that in our world are considered a miracle or mystery in our world and even in life itself.

It is actually very simple once it is told at first and you might not understand it until you reach a point where you can use it yourself.

Are you ready to take the journey and discover the deepest levels of yourself? Are you ready for the truth? Then read on.

*T*his report is based upon a simple “secret” that makes everything possible for you if it is used the right way.

The truth is that it really is, has and always will be right in front of us but it is so simple that it is not seen but overlooked by almost any of us. Every successful person has used it with great success but most likely unknowingly.

It is like a man looking for his glasses to see better and while he is searching the room and then the whole house thinking where he might have put his glasses, he completely forgot that all the time he was looking for it, he carried it in his left pocket of his shirt.

It is so simple that once I tell you what it is you will not realise at first how powerful this is because you heard of it before and hear about it all the time. It actually took me 23 years to find it and figure out how powerful this simple thing is. It is actually so powerful it is the reason why Jesus could walk on water. Do not believe it? I will show you a passage from the bible that proves it a few pages later in this eBook.

It is powerful stuff, do not be fooled by its simplicity as in its simplicity lays its power.

“When the solution is simple, God is answering”

Albert Einstein

Let me tell you what it is and after that I will go into detail and explain to you what makes it so powerful and how it really works so that you will see even clearer through your just newly retrieved glasses.

But before I go any further, remember one thing Use it very wisely for your own good and for you to reach the results you want.

Let me guide you to it and see if you will be able to find it for yourself.

There is a scene in the well-known movie 'The Matrix' where Neo, the main character, who through the first part of that movie was very reserved and let the others act and run things, all over sudden starts to be very confident and takes over the whole situation and nothing can convince him of doing otherwise or even hold him back anymore.

The reason for his sudden confidence and strong will can be found in the conversation he is having with Trinity and Tank that very moment. Read for yourself and see if you can find it.

Scene from the movie 'The Matrix'

Neo, Trinity and Tank were standing next to Morpheus who was still plugged into the matrix. Tank was ready to pull the plug, which would kill him. Since they had to save Zion, the last human city, they had no other choice.

Tank, had his hand on the plug that connected Morpheus to the Matrix and said the last words to Morpheus: "Morpheus you're more than a leader to us, you are a father, we'll miss you always."

Neo: "Stop! I don't believe this is happening."

Tank: "Neo this has to be done."

Neo: "Does it? I don't know. This can't be just go in sense, it can't be."

Tank: "What are you talking about?"

Neo: "The Oracle, she told me that this would happen. She told me that I would have to make a choice."

Trinity: "What choice?"

Neo all of a sudden got a very clear look in his eyes. He looked like something that was holding him back just dropped off him. He started to get ready to plug into the matrix himself and none of the other two could hold him back or convince him otherwise even by bringing up his death.

Trinity: "What are you doing?"

Neo, with a very confident voice: "I'm going in!"

Trinity: "No you're not!"

Neo: "I have to!"

Trinity: "Neo, Morpheus sacrificed himself so that we can get you out. There is no way you're going back in."...

...Tank: "Neo this is loco! They've got Morpheus in a military controlled building. Even if you somehow got inside those are agents holding him. Three of them. I want Morpheus back too but what you are talking about is suicide."

Neo: "I know that's what it looks like but it's not. I can't explain to you why it's not. Morpheus believes something and he was ready to give his life for what he believed, I understand that now. That's why I have to go."

Tank: "Why?"

Neo: "Because I believe in something."

Trinity: "What?"

Neo: "I believe I can bring him back."

Neo went on to get ready to be plugged in and as they could not stop him they did not have any other choice but to help him. He was so focused that nothing else mattered anymore. His belief was so strong he did not even observe the opinion and remarks that Tank and Trinity made from their perspective.

Tank: "Ok so what do you need, besides a miracle? "...

...Trinity showed a last bit of doubt: "Neo no one has ever done anything like that."

Neo answered: "That's why it's going to work."

For most this short scene from a well-known movie is just that a scene of a movie or in this case a conversation of a story in a book. But if you go over it and learn to read “between the lines” you will find a lot of truth in it.

Read this short part of the Matrix scene again and try to understand what it is that this eBook and Neo's sudden confidence and will are all about.

Neo: “...That's why I have to go.”

Tank: “Why?”

Neo: “Because I believe in something.”

Trinity: “What?”

Neo: “I believe I can bring him back.”

This eBook is all about true faith and where it is hidden in each and everyone of us. Your true self, your soul.

I'm not trying to sell you some religion, belief system or anything else that I want you to believe in. It is just about faith and belief in itself. And that is what is so powerful. It applies to each and everyone of us in this world, no matter what religion, race, age, gender, nationality or whatever you are.

Faith in itself is probably the most powerful thing that exists, but understanding the true power and meaning of it and especially knowing how to use it is not that simple to find out on your own. So let me explain the true power of believing to you.

Everything you do in life, every action you take every move you make is based on faith. Faith in itself is more powerful than anything else. Everything that there is, that you do and that exists, only is there because you believe it is.

Sounds too crazy for you right now? Let me give you an analogy to understand it.

Your soul, which is where true faith takes place, is like the fundament, the foundation or base of a house. Everything else builds on it. Without the fundament there would not be a house at all.

Faith or belief in itself is not in your mind or part of your mind, in your mind is only the belief or disbelief that your mind accepts. Your true faith and true potential is in your soul. Your soul is eternal and infinite. It is where your infinite and eternal potential is hidden.

Your faith comes from your soul, your thoughts come from your mind and your actions from your body.

Everything you do in life starts with the faith, everything that takes place in your life, everything that happens, only occurs because you believe or even know it is possible. It is all based on true faith. It is the beginning of everything that is.

Your soul comes first, it is the fundament, the foundation. Your mind adapts to it and your body adapts to your mind. But your soul and therefore true faith or belief is the deepest level of it.

Remember this: You can choose what you believe, it is completely up to you.

If learned and used in a right manner this cannot stop your from nothing, and that means NOTHING. That is what this text is about and it will show it to you and explain it to you in detail.

Knowing And Believing

Picture 2: The Phoenix - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

What is the difference between knowing and believing?

The difference between knowing and believing is actually not as big as you might think at first.

Faith and knowing is one and the same thing for your soul. There is no difference for your soul between these two.

Knowing is simply the strongest form of believing, that is all.

The truth is that it is only in your mind where it is a difference. Your mind could actually make difference between one and the same thing if it wanted to. That is how your mind functions, that is what your mind is made for. Your mind is there to differentiate between things so you are able to decide based on it.

Your mind could make a difference between “blue” and “blue”. How? It simply differentiates between dark blue and light blue, shape, form or anything else. It is that simple. It compares to other aspects so that it can see the difference between two things, even if they are the same. That is your mind and it is there to make differences and that is it. More about that later. Your soul however only believes and knows.

Knowledge is the strongest form of faith.

This is very simple but yet very important to understand. Here is a small example.

Let us say you have a goal you want to reach and you believe it is possible for you to reach it. So you take the actions that are necessary to reach your goal. Then during this process of taking action you will reach a point where you switch from saying , “I believe I can do it.”, to “I know I can do it”. After reaching your goal you will say “I always knew I could do it”, because deep inside of you, you truly already did know, that knowing just was too weak to come through. It always was a part of yourself but you could just not accept it. You could not let it come through.

In this whole process your faith became stronger and turned from believing into knowing but it is still the same thing just in a different form. It is something that you took from your “inner” self to the outer world where it is accepted and manifested as truth. It is now no longer called faith it is knowledge or knowing.

Faith opens you up and gives you the confidence to create anything in the world that is out there. That inner knowing that everyone has from time to time, actually is your faith you have in whatever you choose. It is up to you to start the process to turn that inner knowing into something that strong that it is an accepted truth by the world out there.

On other occasions you might not even think or talk about believing, you just know already right before the start of what you are about to do. Belief or faith itself is just helping you to turn into a state of knowing and being. That state will manifest instantly everything and anything. It does not attract it creates. It always creates the true aspiration of your soul.

Here's another example that will go even further and not only scratch on the surface on what you create for yourself or is possible to achieve by oneself.

The text you are reading right now, you 'know' that this text exists. You see it so you believe it. Your faith is great enough that you already know this text exists. So it does.

If somebody asked you if you really believe that text exists you would say something like: “Your kidding of course it does, it is in front of me I can see it.”

Yet everything you see, feel, taste, observe with your five senses only exists because you believe it and therefore your brain accepts it and translates it into physical objects. For example it is not your eyes that see but the visual cortex which is part of your brain that is responsible for translating the information coming through your eyes into actual images. Ask a hypnotist how they can make you believe that a potato is an apple.

The text you are reading right now also started out as a simple belief created by me (the author). You just accepted it and took on that belief yourself. It is a manifested self existing belief transferred from me and my 5 senses onto paper and given to you through your 5 senses so that you could take it, accept it and believe as well.

Before you could read this text I had to believe it is possible to create it. You simply see the result. It is given to you, a faith that is already manifested and there. Since, you know it is.

The text was created by me with what I, the author, believed, had to be done to create it. I must admit it was not anything mystical and I did not just create this text by looking at the screen, I typed it on my keyboard using my 5 senses like most of us would do. Yet that is only because I accepted it as truth that in order to get this text written my possibilities are limited to the ability of my 5 senses. However my possibilities really are not limited, it is just my belief and my faith that is limited by my very own mind.

Scene from the movie 'The Matrix'

Neo sees the little monk sitting on the floor who just bends a spoon right in front of him by just looking at it.

The little monk gives Neo the spoon and says: "Do not try to bend the spoon, that is impossible. Instead early try to realise the truth."

Neo to the little Monk: "What truth?"

The little monk replies: "There is no spoon."

"There is no spoon?" Neo says with the spoon already in his hand.

The little monk continues to explain: "Then you'll see, it is not the spoon that bends, it is only yourself."

Faith is the fundament of yourself. So do not let other people tell you what to believe or you will become what they believe and think that you are and not what you want to be. If you accept it as truth what others think about you and believe it to be real, they will change you with it no matter what there intention was.

Everything that already is, started with a faith from the soul of somebody else. Not the thoughts of somebody else but the faith of them. The faith exists before your thoughts, it is the fundament. Your thoughts are based on what you believe. No matter if you accept what other people think and believe them or if you believe in your own ideas and thoughts.

Things ARE what you know.

Things will become what you believe.

Knowing is what is.

Believing is what will be.

The Difference Between Believing And Thinking

Now this is very important to know. There is a major difference between thinking and believing. You think with your mind which is represented in your body by your brain but you believe with your soul, which is represented in your body by your heart.

I will not talk about belief systems in this book, they are ALL in your head, your mind. Your mind is not as important as it seems to many, everything in your mind are thoughts, nothing but thoughts. The belief I'm talking about is pure faith from the very bottom of your soul.

You do not have to think about what to think or how to setup your mind. You just believe, your mind automatically adapts to it.

Faith takes place in your soul and not your body or brain. Remember that. You think with your brain and mind, you believe with your heart and soul. Your soul is what will exist after you die and is what existed before you were born. It is who you actually are.

The mind is something that a lot of people refer to as one of the most important things. But it is not. Your mind could not even function without your soul. The soul is the essence, the breath of life. It gives life to your body and mind. Do you think your brain could work without your heart pumping blood to it?

Whenever you try to tell yourself that you believe something you actually do not believe, you only think and you use your mind to try to talk yourself into believing. This is also possible but your mind is merely a tool that tries to make you believe. Once you believe that it actually is possible for your mind to do this, it will eventually be possible. But your mind is not making this happen. It is the faith you have into it. Your mind is responsible for your thinking and your thoughts only, but thinking alone will not make anything happen. The mind is a tool and that is about it. We will get into this a lot deeper a bit later in this book.

“Don't think you are, know you are”

- Morpheus to Neo in the sparing fight scene in the movie the Matrix

If you truly believe, it is not something you will have to try to tell yourself or talk yourself into (although if used with faith this will certainly work).

You just believe and do.

Here is a very good quote from the author of one of the most famous books written the last century:

“Faith is the "eternal elixir" which gives life, power, and action to the impulse of thought!

The foregoing sentence is worth reading a second time, and a third, and a fourth. It is worth reading aloud!

Faith is the starting point of all accumulation of riches!

Faith is the basis of all "miracles," and all mysteries which cannot be analyzed by the rules of science!

Faith is the only known antidote for failure!

Faith is the element, the "chemical" which, when mixed with prayer, gives one direct communication with infinite Intelligence.

Faith is the element which transforms the ordinary vibration of thought, created by the finite mind of man, into the spiritual equivalent.

Faith is the only agency through which the cosmic force of Infinite Intelligence can be harnessed and used by man.”

-Napoleon Hill, Think and Grow Rich

Against All Odds – A Few Examples Of Faith

Successful people

Did you ever realize that the only people that are successful are the ones that believe in themselves or what they do?

The only people that reach their goal are the ones that believe it is possible. Whether they believed on their own or they had someone who believed in them until they believed it themselves. They believed and that is exactly what drove them.

The others do not even start.

No Matter what success story you look at. They all had that one thing in common. The belief to be able to do it.

Every action you take everything you do is a thousand times more intense and has an MUCH stronger effect when you believe in what you do. Your whole heart and soul will be in it. Your body and mind simply adjust to it, automatically.

Let us take one of the most famous athletes of our era as example. Michael Jordan.

Michael Jordan started out as average guy in school who did not even make the big basketball team the first year he tried out for it. His coach back then thought he was not good enough. Yet Michael Jordan believed in himself and he started to work on his basketball game even harder.

Do you think it was hard for Michael Jordan to get up every morning at 6 am to work out before school? No it was not, he believed what he would do was right and getting up that early then is just as easy as brushing your teeth everyday. He wanted to do this because he believed in himself.

I will say this here again the faith is the fundament, the foundation, everything else builds on it. Michael Jordan had great faith in himself which is why he developed such a strong will that let him achieve what he has achieved throughout his basketball career. His intensity for the game and his will simply came from the faith he had in himself and in his dream.

Phil Jackson, basketball coach of Michael Jordan and the Chicago Bulls once said about him: "He had the ability to believe that he was going to do well."

Phil Jackson continues: "Probably one of the most remarkable shots that everybody remembers was the shot he made against Cleveland. But they do not remember that the night before, he missed three out of six foul shots that would have sealed the game for us and we would not have had to go to the fifth game. A normal player would have said oh I cost us this opportunity and probably beat himself up over it. Michael, the next day that we played in Cleveland got on the bus and said 'have no fear we gonna win this ballgame'."

They indeed did win the game that night with one of the most famous shots he ever made.

That attitude based on his faith just took him to where he went in his basketball career. That is exactly why he became so good.

His faith just made him stronger, a lot stronger.

Remember: The stronger your faith the stronger your mind and the stronger your body. Your mind and body simply adapt to the current state of your soul, always.

All the qualities that a successful person has are based on their belief and faith.

- confidence
- self esteem
- intensity
- taking action / making things happen
- motivation
- persistence

And any other qualities of a successful person are all based on faith. It is what the person believes in, that makes the person.

Placebos

*H*ave you ever heard of placebos and how they work? Just a small pill given to you by your doctor as a drug to help you restore your health, yet the pill is really nothing else than just a small pill of sugar. And somehow it manages to cure your health issues.

This is nothing that has been talked about a lot just now. This is something that has been tested and proved over and over again. What do you think why these placebos work?

It is simply the belief that is put in it. The very belief that was given to you by telling you a little “lie”.

Faith works, whether the facts given to you are true or not. Now try to understand what this means. No matter what, lies, fiction, truth or facts. If you know how, everything is possible and I do mean EVERYTHING. Everything you can possibly think of. No matter what perception, science, proof, odds or perspective it is based upon or goes against.

Against all odds, people that follow or act by these simple three words, all have one thing in common. They have faith in what they do and you can see this by how they act in certain situations. It shows in their confidence on how they do certain things.

Their actions become so intense that NOTHING can stop them anymore. This is exactly how you recognize faith, by the actions that are taken.

You can recognize your true faith by the actions you take.

Once your faith is strong enough, everything that used to hold you down, doubts, other people's opinions etc. just drop off your mind like the raindrops or water drops off your car once you reach a certain speed while driving.

Everything that made you concern in some way just does not matter anymore. Your belief is strong enough to live without all the doubts on your mind.

The Key To It – Your Perspective

Picture 3: Exotic 3 - The Cave - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

John was not very happy, he was an average guy with an average job and for reasons he could not even really explain he just did not like his every day life too much.

One day John drives home from his job, which he hated. He is a taxi driver and actually wanted to quit for years but for some reason he could not make it. He just was not ready to make that decision yet. Although it actually would be not that hard to do, he was thinking a lot about what other job he should get, if he would ever get a new job, and all the stress that comes with it when things change in your life.

However today was not like any other day. When John was almost at home all over sudden some other car somehow got into his lane and crashed directly into him.

That is all he could remember because John woke up after he had a terrible car accident. Except for a broken arm, which would heal after a few weeks, he was very lucky. At least that is what the doctors told him. This accident could have very easily killed him.

Now John has two options. Look at the whole thing in a bad way and think how worse his life just turned and that he could not even earn the money he needed to live in the next few weeks. He then would suddenly think about all the bad stuff that could come along with it.

Or John will look at it differently and finally make the decision to change his life and quit his job and look for a new one. That bad accident then would just give him a reason to finally do what he wanted to do. He would be able to look forward and suddenly think about the good things to come.

The way John looks at that situation, that experience is perspective. His perspective determines how the situation will look to him. And whatever perspective he chooses that very same moment he chooses the faith he has and what he believes.

The key to faith is perspective. Sometimes you can simply choose what you believe but very often it is up to how you perceive things, especially situations that you did not know where coming.

Everything that takes place in your life, every event, every situation, every experience, everything you see, feel, taste smell and hear is determined by how you perceive and look at it.

The moment you decide to look at an event a certain way you actually choose what your belief concerning that matter is. Therefore you also create what comes and your future in the very same moment.

Remember this: You can always change your perspective of things and therefore your belief. Change your perspective and it will be easier for you to believe.

If you have a goal, a dream or something you strive for, do not let bad things and negative experiences pull you down, see it as chance to improve or come back even stronger. You can choose your perspective in a way so that it will lift up your belief instead of putting it down.

There are no limits. You simply choose limits yourself by weakening or cutting off your faith. If you want to move a mountain put yourself and your striving of moving it, in a perspective that the faith of reaching your goal will not be weakened, stopped or cut off.

If it is something that you truly wanna do and if it is something that you gotta do than you do it. You know who you are, you know the part of you that is so full of life. Everyone has that feeling, that “fire”, but most people usually never use it and then it just goes away. But if you choose to you can use it, your life itself is the opportunity to do it, so do it. Why not?

That “fire” comes directly from your soul, it is what you truly believe, it is what your soul truly aspires. It is what makes you having dreams. You are who you are. And it does not matter how it looks to other people. All it matters is how it looks to you.

Everything always has more than one side to look at it. Every word, every tool, every situation, every experience, every object, every symbol, every action even faith itself. Simply just everything.

It is not the thing itself, it is how you look at it and how you use it. It is from what perspective you will see it. And only you can change or keep that perspective. Perspective in your life is always from yourself never from somebody else. You live your life and not the life of somebody else. Nor does anyone live your life and never will.

That is why everything you look at you always look at it from your perspective and you will NEVER be able to look at things from somebody else's perspective, since you simply do not live the life of somebody else nor will anybody ever be able to look at things from your perspective.

The most important thing is not how it looks to others, since no one ever will and ever can live your life, it is how it looks to you.

When you change the way and perspective you look at something, what you look at will change.

Thomas Edison invented the light bulb, it took him more than 10.000 times of trying it out until it finally worked. Ten thousand, you have to really think of this to grasp it. If he made 10 trials everyday it would have taken him 1000 days, which is more than two and a half years, for something that was not even proven to be able to work yet he still believed it would and kept trying. Guess what he was saying when he reached the 10.000 mark?

I have not failed. I've just found 10,000 ways that will not work.

-Thomas A. Edison (1841-1931)

Looking at it from that perspective he kept his faith alive and was able to keep doing what he did in a very calm and confident way. It is a perfect example of perspective and how to use it. He believed it so strongly, he knew it was possible, that is why he looked at things that way. Critics could not even touch him. It is a good example on what faith is and you can keep that faith or make it stronger by the perspective you have on things that try to take the faith away from you whether they know this or not.

No matter what you do, do not lose the faith in things and you will succeed. Simply change your perspective if you seem to struggle.

So what if I fail?

So? Where is your problem with that? Who says you failed anyway? That is just another perception of the things that happened. Asking that question already shows your perspective and what you truly believe, that it is possible for you to fail. If you do not feel well with some situation simply change the perspective you have on it as well. You can only fail if you believe you can. Yourself is always responsible for failing because your the one who believes you failed.

Failing itself is just another perspective and if anyone tells you, you failed in any matter they can only tell you so from their perspective but never from your own. It does not matter how it looks to others, all it matters is how it looks to you.

The only time you truly failed is when you believe the perspective of others. That moment you deny your own perspective which is based on what your soul truly aspires.

If you do not let other people tell you what perspective to have and therefore let other people try to make something out of you that you are not but instead you stay true to your own perspective and yourself, you are truly free. You can then do WHATEVER you want. Whatever you truly want to do.

It is your life and if loosing in your perspective is a failure it is. If not it is not. But do not let other people tell you what perspective to have. Make up your own.

The truth is that you are free, completely free to choose your perspective and to choose what you believe or if you want to believe anyone or anything else than what your heart and soul tells you. Your soul never lies, it cannot.

There's a famous saying: "Why do we fall? To learn to get up again." The Answer to that question is perspective as well and you, and you only, are the one who chooses your own answer to that question.

Even time is perspective and it is relative and really only part of your mind. Einstein once said something like the following about time.

Time runs way to fast when you sit with your girlfriend on the beach enjoying the sunset. 1 hour feels like 5 minutes. However when you sit alone at the train station waiting for your train, 5 Minutes easily feel like 1 hour.

Refusing

One way to change your own perspective or not let other beliefs influence you is by simply refusing. Refusing to accept a different perspective or belief.

The truth is that you let it happen. It never happens to you. You let it happen to you. It is you who decides whether certain events or opinions of people pull you down and influence you or if they do not. You are the one that decides to feel a particular way about a situation not the person causing that situation to influence you.

You let it happen that others can take away your faith that you have. Change the perspective and simply refuse to let any influences take away your faith.

Picture 4: A Guardian Angel - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

People might come up with thousands of different reasons to make you quit or stop you from what you believe in. They try to take away your faith. Whether they know it or not. The only way to keep your faith alive in such situations is by refusing to listen to what other people and the world out there tells you and do what you used to do. Keep believing.

“Nothing is impossible for the person who refuses to listen to reason.”

If you want to truly believe, then there are no doubts allowed at all and if anyone is trying to tell you different, refuse to accept what that person is trying to tell you.

Every time you pay attention to what other people say or tell you, you pay attention to their beliefs and in the very same moment you choose to consider to give up your own.

Remember it is about the belief in itself which you are totally free to choose. It is not about following some other people's faith or belief or even belief system.

The ones that are really the strongest are the ones that already have all odds against them but still refuse to give up. Do not let other people take away your faith in your dreams or they will take the whole dream.

Refusing is based on your faith. It is your perspective that is able to make it impossible for you to believe something else than what you have chosen.

You Choose It

*I*t is completely up to you to choose what you believe. The truth is that the world is playing your mind and emotions and therefore mislead you from your inner self, your soul, which is who you really are.

You can either let others tell you what to believe or you choose for yourself. Which truly is an important choice in itself already.

How do you recognize if what you choose is right?

You will feel it. It is your soul trying to tell you that you are doing the right thing. You, yourself will be completely centered and calm. You will just know that you made the right choice without having to come up with a reason for it.

Sometimes it can become really hard when you believe in something that no one else does but yet they constantly try to convince you different. Your feelings might become very intense. Do not be scared of these feelings but learn how to control them and deal with them in a positive way. Use the energy of anger from misunderstanding to work on your dream instead of trying to go against the ones that go against you.

It is also not always smart to openly talk about your own faith and dreams since people might want to pull you down and try to tell you different. Not talking about it in such situations helps to keep your own faith alive.

Silence is golden, speech is silver.

Sometimes you do not know what you are asking for

You choose what you believe, you choose your perspective, every moment, every second of your life. You choose it because like I said before you are the only one that can have your perspective. You do not only choose the good you also choose the bad, the drama and the things you think you do not want.

Whenever you do something that you only think you want to do but your true self, your soul tells you different, it will end up in 'yourself struggling and suffering' in some way. It is what creates drama, and drama really only exists to get your true self back to where it belongs, get your soul back on track.

Remember that one who believes the law of physics to be real and unbreakable will never be able to walk on water no matter how great his faith to do so is. If one belief conflicts with another, you will in no way be able to reach or achieve what you believe in. You will have to let go of already set up systems and things that are already out there in order to achieve the impossible.

Someone who believes in world peace but at the same time supports to go to war, whether it is to protect his own country or not, will never see world peace. It goes against that person's own faith of world peace. That person's faith therefore is not real, not true and not pure.

You only trick yourself when believing in one thing but at the same time having a belief or having faith in something that is a contradiction to the other belief. You will only be able to see one of the two happen.

You need to understand that is not always the best thing to choose the easy path, choosing something that seems to be easier to believe in. Believing something that is given is often easier but not always what your soul truly asks for.

Whatever it is that you believe in you need to be sure of that you will be able to handle the consequences. Every belief, every faith has an outcome. By choosing what you believe, you determine the outcome. Whether you believe something bad or something good.

Miracles do not happen by itself. You make them happen, you let them happen.

You need to know yourself. In order to make the right choices, you need to know yourself and who you really are that you know what is right for you. Everything you do, every decision you make, every step you take, is a result of what you believe in. Watching yourself and your actions closely can tell you everything about yourself and what you truly believe. It will be all you need to find your way and make the right choice.

“Temet Nosce”

This is Latin and means 'Know Thyself'

You choose and the moment you choose you plant what you believe, your faith.

Be true in every action you take or word you say or you will only deny your own faith and even yourself.

The System - Other People's Beliefs And What Is already There

 Things exist because you believe they do. You learned to walk because you believed you could. You can read because you believe you can. You can breath because you believe you can. There is life because you believe there is. You can only see this text right in front of you, because you know it is there so does the world out there only exists because you know it does.

Yet, how do you know that the world already existed before you were born? How do you know if the world will keep existing when you die?

One may say well science and history proof it, but how do you know that they were not all together created the moment you become conscious in this world? Simply because history, books, the media, and other people tell you so? What if all these things only were created and also born the moment that you were born? History, books, the media, stories about long past ages and eras, science, even time and everything else that exists. What if these things did not start to exist a long time before you were born but the very moment that you were born?

How do you know if people that are older than you are really have existed before you did and do not play or make anything up? Even if they themselves may not know since they are convinced by the lie they live and tell you.

How do you know that the world did not start to exist when you were born? And how would you know if it will keep existing when you die?

I cannot give you the answer to these questions, but the truth is that the world, the way you see it and live in it, would not exist without you. And, it only exists once, within you.

There are only 2 options you have. You take what is already there and believed by others or you choose for yourself.

This world is based on a system and filled with things trying to dictate you by trying to tell you what to believe.

The media, the school system, politicians, science, the government they all expect you to believe what they say is true without even questioning them once. If you do so you will be said to have questioned an authority and therefore either not taken seriously, disposed as someone who has issues in his own life, or certain actions will be taken against you.

It is the system that most everyday people are almost hopelessly depended on. These people are not able (by choice) to choose their belief for themselves and the system totally exploits this fact for its advantage. The system we live in does this by telling them what to believe and keeping the whole society in a state of not being able to choose their own belief.

When masses are made to believe something negative, they may create what they did not want, which is for instance how the “NWO” like you people name it, works.

- the insider

Picture 5: Twilight And Shadow - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

*D*o you know what the most common answer to the question, “How do you know?” is?

“Because so and so told me so,” or “Because I read it in an book”, or “Because I saw it in that movie”. No matter what people know, if you ask them where they know it from most of the time they will point to another source somewhere outside in this world.

What most people believe is based upon what is happening in the environment and world around them, their beliefs are not their own individual beliefs but are so called belief systems. Belief systems are always based upon a belief that someone is trying to impose on somebody else, individually or to the masses. Yet these people do not realize that faith and belief in itself is not meant to be imposed, it is a gift and supposed to be given, always. It was a gift to the one who originally had that belief and it was up to him whether to take it or leave it. The same choice should be given to everyone else that this belief is presented to.

The greatest and strongest people are the ones that have faith in their own beliefs and are able to defy other outer influences. Someone who needs other people to believe in him is not half as strong as somebody that does not need anyone to believe in himself.

“Just have to make up your own damn mind, to either accept what I'm going to tell you or reject it.” - the Oracle from the movie the Matrix, while talking to Neo.

It is not wrong to believe what the system or someone else tells you. However I want to bear in mind that it is you to choose that path and by choosing to believe what a particular person or a complete system tells you, you will forever be a slave to that person or that system.

Everything is said to have a soul, nothing can exist without it. It is also said that the devil is after your soul. He is so because he does not have one but yet needs one to exist. Your soul cannot be taken but must be given.

If you believe what the outer world tells you instead of what your soul tells you, you will be giving away part of your soul for something that you only thought you wanted because the world out there told you so.

It is like a game and the only way to win is to choose for yourself instead of letting other people tell you who you are and what to do. Be the person you want to be, dream to be and do what you truly wish to do.

“How would I answer the question
'what do you do when you have mastered the game?'

Checkmate.”

- the insider -

Remember that life and the faith you have are both a gift, whether they are your own or someone else's.

Be yourself, be your own, instead of a slave and only make moves when your heart is in it.

Be true to yourself and anybody else, always and every moment, so that you will not hurt your soul nor give it away but set it free.

Discover The Divine Truth

Part II

Picture 6: Artelesia III - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

Mind, Body And Soul - Who Are You Really?

I imagine you had no eyes to see. You would not know colors, you would not know how the sun, the stars, your environment, this whole world would look. You would not even know the look of your best friend nor yourself.

You had no pictures in your mind at all, since you do not know how things look like there were no beautiful looking places to think of and your dreams would be empty like a movie without pictures. Whatever your favorite sight or view is, it would not there.

Imagine you also had no ears to hear and would not know the sound of the birds, nor the voice of your best friend. You had no melodies in your head after you listened to the radio and your dreams would be still, like a movie without pictures , soundtrack and dialogs. Your mind would not be able to recognize and hear sound of any kind.

You could not talk because you cannot even hear your own voice. You could not even talk with your hands since you could not see what they do. Whatever your favorite song is, it would not be there.

Imagine further you could not even taste. Every single food you ate was plain. Having appetite just because of the good taste of something would not be possible. An apple would be the same for you as a potato and water had no more taste at all. Whatever your favorite taste is, it would not be there.

Imagine that you also could not smell. You could not smell the fresh air, the flowers and the fresh cut grass in the summer months. Whatever your favorite smell is, it would not be there.

Now imagine even further that you could not feel. You would not know the difference between warm and cold. You could not walk because your feet would not feel the ground you were walking on. Riding a roller coaster would no longer be any fun at all. You could not feel the wind blowing though your face or the sun's warmth on it. Whatever your favorite feeling is, it would not be there.

Your mind could not even try to imagine how things would look like if you could see, nor imagine how things would taste, how they would smell and if they made any sound, simply because you could not even feel them when touching them. And if you could not feel, would love still exist?

Your mind would be completely empty. There would be nothing.

Yet, you would still exist.

Now ask yourself. Who are you really?

You are not your mind and you are not your body. You are your Soul. Your Soul is infinite, it is eternal, it cannot die and can only be sold or given away. Whether your mind and your body stop functioning, your soul still exists. It is the real you that is open to everything and for which everything is possible.

Whenever you dream or have visions and think about something without forcing yourself to think about anything particular, you see pictures in your mind that match the current state of your true self, your soul.

Your soul does not “feel”, it is your body that does, based on the current state of your soul. So does your mind only think and see pictures based on the current state of your soul. It is your soul who decides how you feel and what you think when you let go of what is put on your mind and body from the outside world. Your soul is actually in control of your mind and body and everything else you are made up of. It gives the impulses to make them work and control them.

If you put your mind or your body over your soul, you force the soul into a state that it might not necessarily fit into or wants to be in. Therefore you might feel bad and suffer.

Many make the mistake to sell themselves and their soul to feel better. They do things they would have never done before simply for a good feeling in their body. However it is impossible for your body to truly feel good when giving away your soul as you are only giving away yourself.

Instead they should try to realize that it was their choice and be aware of what they did is what made them suffer. Only then the suffering will go away.

Your true aspiration, what you truly want, does not come from your body or your mind, it comes from your heart, your soul.

Basically it is whatever you do to your soul, you do to yourself. It is the real you, that is who you have to get to know, get closer to. Knowing your soul is knowing yourself and what actions you should really take. If you feel bad it is because you live a life that your soul does not fit into. That is why you suffer.

Your soul is. It always knows and believes, it never doubts and only creates, it is fully aware of its potential and could do things that your mind could not even accept because it was told different all its life. Your soul could truly move mountains if you just let it.

“...the Soul (which is the unseen you as a whole, the Soul is not part of you, you are one).”

-the Insider

The Truth About Your Mind

Picture 7: Ice Spirit - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

Let us take this whole subject even a step further and deeper. Let me teach you some truth about the mind which has been praised so much the last century and these days and has not always been understood correctly.

Human beings are actually a lot more powerful than anyone thinks. And the last word of that last sentence is exactly the problem why nobody seems to be able to figure this out or notice this. The people think and actually believe their thoughts to be the truth. Even if these thoughts are just based on some circumstances they have no influence to at all. Like may be the news or the placebo effect I was talking about above.

Your mind is a tool, that is it. Yes that is all there is to it. You are not your mind nor do you depend on it. It is a tool that can be used for your good or for your bad. People that know how the mind works might use that knowledge a lot more than you might think at first.

To understand the true potential and limitation of this tool you will have to understand how it really works and what role you play in it.

Your mind is a tool for yourself just like the hammer is a tool for a craftsman. A craftsman does not believe to be his hammer yet a lot of people believe themselves to be their mind. Some people even believe themselves to be their body and therefore limit themselves to the possibilities their body has.

People who believe themselves to be their mind limit themselves to the possibilities of their mind.

Yes your mind is limited and what you will read in this chapter is information that you will not find to be taught in school or openly talked about in public and you will not find any psychologist, anywhere, that will talk about this. Yet it is information that is basically open and available to anyone.

Your mind has a very specific job to do. It is supposed to see the differences and similarities between things. It compares and differentiates.

You see a red and a blue chair. They are both the same but different. You like the blue chair so you go sit in the blue chair. Your mind does that. Your mind sees differences so you can choose between them.

Your mind works with mental pictures.

Close your eyes and think about your refrigerator. Then think about what is on the inside of the refrigerator door. You see that picture your looking at in your mind? That is it, that is your mind.

It is like a huge library of images. The mind is like a huge gallery or storehouse of very many pictures. Actually it is a storehouse of all input through your five senses, pictures (eyes), sounds (ears), smells (nose), tastes (tongue) and feelings that you experience in your body from outside like touching (skin). Your mind is responsible to recognize all input through your five senses and differentiate between them. It helps you for just one thing and one thing only. To make choices and to choose.

To keep it simple I will explain the further based on the sense that the mind of a human operates mainly on, pictures.

People that create movies and advertisement understand very well how your mind operates on pictures. Your mind takes pictures at 24 frames per second (FPS). This means you can see up to 24 pictures per second and your mind will still be able to recognize them. This is also called the flicker frequency. 24 FPS is the frequency on which your mind receives the outer world. Everyone that can see images with their mind receives them at 24 FPS, whether you see them directly with your eyes or you have your eyes closed and imagine or dream something.

24 FPS is your mind's speed limit on which it receives mental pictures. It is not possible for you to think faster than that. You are not able to recognize the difference between two things any faster than 24 FPS.

Everything above that limit and your mind 'collapses' and sees many pictures as one single image. Your mind is no longer able to see the difference between the frames and you see a regular movie on the screen.

Imagine you look at a light that turns on and off, you will see that your mind is able to make the difference between on and off, if it goes on and off really fast you might still be able to see it jitter. However if it goes on and off so fast that it is actually turned on and off 25 times a second, it will be a steady light. Your mind is failing to do its job. It can no longer tell the difference between one flash of the light and another. It will look like the light is turned on, yet it is still going on and off.

Your mind has this function for only one reason, your survival in this world. How would you survive if you could not tell the difference between poison and food? Or what would happen if you would not know the difference between toothpaste and toxic cleaner? You would not even know the difference between day and night.

What such a speed limit means in real life is that when too many events happen at a too short amount of time your mind cannot handle it anymore. The result is stress, and in many situations, a person with a completely overwhelmed mind that does not know what it is doing. Anything that could result out of it.

It is no wonder why the world seems to move faster every decade, every year, every month almost. More and more stuff is happening at the same time in shorter periods with less and shorter time outs. Personal computers have been developed only the last 20 years and ever since then, there have been some tremendous changes in society at a very high rate and it continues to go by this rate and will go even faster.

The cell phone has been developed and is now just an everyday part of our society. Computers keep getting faster and smaller every year and new technology emerges, like the Internet and what can be done with it.

In addition to all the changes in our world, we still have to be able to take care of our everyday life. It seems impossible to stay up to date with everything new but still manage our lives. The mind is no longer able to handle all this and therefore gets completely stressed. The mind how humanity knows it is simply too slow. It only has a few other options to survive.

You are either able to fight against the situations that cause the stress or you run away from it. Start over again. This will be the first thing your mind is going to tell you to do when you are being overwhelmed by stress.

If you are still not able to handle the situation the next thing that would happen is that you will completely go unconscious of the situation and things concerning that matter will be impossible for you. Your mind simply does not see some of the things happening around you because they happen at a too fast rate. You quit to believe and completely lost faith because your mind was not able to handle the situation. Your mind will not be able to see the situation anymore. It went completely unconscious about the matter.

The mind will take you to the dead end and will make things impossible for you and it will not even let you see behind its own reality as it is unconscious of anything else.

If it comes to experiencing the infinite possibilities of yourself and doing whatever you want to do your mind is the problem.

Your human mind is a tool and it is limited. It can not give you certain results. Your true self however, does not have a speed limit it is instantaneous.

Remember: It is not about believing with your mind.

It is about believing with your heart and your soul. Your mind does not have to believe it, it simply has to let you take action on something it does not understand. People that had nothing to lose anymore went on to go for their dreams and did things they would have never done before yet their mind could not believe it, could not come up with a reason why “I” should have success when there are so many “others” trying the same thing and only one could succeed. They quit to listen to the reasoning of their mind.

Freeing Your Mind

When you are able to free your mind completely, when you are able to think not but still enjoy every moment to its very last bit without worrying about anything, when time stops and the busiest places in the world stand still all over a sudden, that is the moment you are touching on your soul, your true self.

That is when writers write the best passages of a book, athletes suddenly make the impossible possible and geniuses have their greatest ideas.

Only a free mind can get there and beyond that if in that very moment you have the faith to do so.

Picture 8: God of Thunder - Digital by Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

What your mind tells you to do is based on reason that is based on comparing the similarities and differences the mind sees. However if you shut down the mind and completely free it from what is in there and what it compares and sees, you free yourself to do what you wish to do. Whether there is reason for it or not.

A wise man once said:

“Comparing is the end of happiness and the starting point of all unhappiness”

The problem is that the mind is based on reason. Whenever you wish to do something that you just feel like doing but do not have a reason for, your mind will most likely find a reason to justify your actions or try to tell you different as it can not see any similarities or differences to justify your decision and the action you take. The mind judgets by what else it has been told, seen and currently sees. And simply by this judging it limits the possibilities of yourself to its own judgment.

Judge not, that ye be not judged.

For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

(Matthew 7, 1-2)

It is not about knowing as much as possible but about having a completely free and open mind so that you will not limit yourself to the reasons of your mind and its judgment that results from it.

Nothing is impossible for the person who refuses to listen to reason.

Do not try to find any reason or justification for whatever you intend to do or do. Just do it.

Reasoning that is your mind, while when you just do what you want to do you will live directly from your soul, it will make you truly free.

Once your able to know it will happen without your mind trying to find a reason to justify it, you got it.

Instead of the mind telling your soul how to be, your mind will, once it is completely free, automatically adapt to your soul's state. The other way around will always end up in suffering since your soul just is and does not need a reason for its existence.

You were never meant to put your mind over yourself. You were given a mind to use it for your own good and not against you. Be true to yourself and let your mind follow your soul so that it can do good instead of trying to dictate your soul by your mind.

Your soul is pure and will never give something wrong to your mind, however your mind is able to impose wrong things to your soul. It is simply using a tool in the wrong way, since you suffer.

A lot of people, teachers so called gurus or “smart books” try to tell you to deal with a problem in a certain way, to do this or to do that and to handle difficult situations in such a particular way. You all heard it before “Think positive”, “Do not be so negative”, and so on.

The most given reply to one of these advices is: “That is easier said than done.” And that is exactly how it is.

No matter what people tell you, it will not work for you until you understand and figure it out for yourself.

I tell you to do only one thing. No matter what it is, “Let”. Just let go, and you will not have to try or do anything that will not seem to work for you anyway. The only thing you really need to do is to completely free your mind of all the thoughts that are in there and let things just happen and take their place, and just believe.

The one thing that keeps you from doing whatever you dream of is not the world out there it is only yourself. The truth is that you are imprisoned by your own mind, which is fed to believe certain things that are out there. The media, TV, other peoples opinion, even your friends, they all tell you, and therefore your mind, what to believe. Some do this unknowingly, however there are also the ones that do so and are very aware of what they do. They use the media, books, advertising and so on to plant certain beliefs in your mind and use you to their advantage. Do a search for “mind control” on the Internet and you will know what I mean.

“Just have to make up your own damn mind to either except what I'm going to tell you or reject it.”

-The Oracle, the Matrix Trilogy

If your able to completely free your mind of all the things that are in there already, all those beliefs you “learned” ever since you were born, you completely let go of them. You will then only do what fits your current state of your soul and you will be free and be able to do and choose whatever you want to.

The freer your mind is the less belief systems you have and the easier it will be for you to believe what you choose to believe.

Morpheus says to Neo, “You have to let it all go, Neo. Fear, doubt, and disbelief. Free your mind.” and he jumps from one skyscraper to another, almost like he is flying.

-Morpheus, the Matrix

You do not necessarily need a free mind to achieve certain things. Faith is not based on reason like your mind is. If you have great faith you will be free of any reasoning and judgments. Your faith will shut down and free your mind by itself after some time. If you let it, it is able to free yourself from everything else that is on your mind that holds you back.

However to completely free yourself, live directly from your soul and get and instant response from your faith and to what you believe, whether it seems totally crazy now (since your mind is not free and judges over what it sees), a completely free mind is what you need. You need to let go of everything in your mind.

Letting Go

Letting go is the complete opposite of what people will do that completely depend on the “system”. They will never be able to be truly free and discover the truth. They are hopelessly depending on a system that they can not leave behind and let go of.

This whole idea of letting go, goes against anything and everything that is out there or anyone ever tells you. To truly find your infinite possibilities this is the only way to get there.

It is not about trying to get as much as possible or to receive or to acquire things. It is the exact other way around. That is what people need to realize. Otherwise your mind and your thoughts will only work against you and will constantly try to tell you different.

What it really is about is not to “try” to get, it is the opposite.

It is about completely letting go, it works backwards. It is not about trying to get as much as possible. It is about not getting, it is giving and “letting” it go.

I am sure you heard one of these sayings before: “You get what you give,” or from the bible, “A man reaps what he sows”. There are plenty of these phrases in every other 'holy book' out there. The truth to these is a lot deeper than most people understand. In fact it works in every single situation in life and is one of the most powerful things of life itself.

Imagine you sit on a table with other people to eat and the only way to get your plate full with food from the other side of the table is by giving it to somebody else. While giving it away, you have to let go of it. It is that simple. Life itself is based on this principle and everything else in life works on the same principle.

Now imagine further the person you gave it to is somehow a smart ass and would ask: “What would be if I do not give it back to you?”

You have two options now.

Fight for your plate which then you probably will not be getting back at all and if so then it will most likely not be full.

Or you simply reply: "Well keep it then if it suits you!" And that way point out and demonstrate that you are truly ready to let it go and live on without it. The result will be that you will get the plate back from the other side of the table eventually, most likely full.

Simply because it is your plate and you offended no one and let everyone be. You just gave the plate and let it go. So will they not offend you and give you back your plate.

Now imagine and try to figure out what would happen and what would you get if you would be able to completely let go of everything in your mind. Letting go in a good sense. You give away all you got in your mind, your whole plan, plot and ideas. Everything you still wanted to do and everything you have been trying to do for so long. All the memories, the good and the bad. Everything that your whole life is based upon. You just give it away and let go of it.

Picture 9: The Revelation - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

Now what do you think you will find in return? Everything? Since you gave everything?

You let go completely and do not TRY to be, do not try to get, do not try to receive anymore. The truth is that every time you try, no matter what you try, you are out to achieve something even if you try to give. However real giving is when you just let go of whatever you try to achieve or try to get. Then you truly give all you got.

Only then you will be able to receive everything because you GAVE everything, your whole life and everything you are and your life is based up on. You let life do with you what it has to, you give yourself. You let go of everything that your mind tries to tell you. Everything you should be, or do. Only then will you be free and be able to do whatever you wish. Your mind is no longer blocking you from what you really would like to do from the bottom of your heart. You just do it.

Remember that it is letting go of your mind only, you give up your mind, not yourself. It does not mean you stop doing whatever you wish to do. It means that you will live directly from your soul, without having to justify anything you do. You will be free.

Once you get there everything will just come to you and you will be able to appreciate every moment of it because you gave your whole, you quit to try and completely freed your mind even from all the expectations you had. You live in the moment, in the now and not in the future or the past.

This is not only when you find peace of mind but also the peace that your soul is constantly searching for. That is letting go. Letting go is freeing yourself, freeing your mind. Whether something happens or not, it does not matter to you anymore since you let go of everything in your mind. Things will just take place from now on. You do not have to doubt or find a reason anymore once your mind is completely free, you just believe and let it happen. Life will be a complete pleasure. You gave and let go and now life in return gives to you .

Every time something outstanding happens people start to doubt it and refuse it, often even unknowingly. They start to say things like “No that cannot be”, “That is not possible, it goes against this reason or that law.” They refuse it instead of letting it happen. They choose NOT to let it happen. Their mind kicks in and so they just cannot believe it.

If people tell you that there are things you just cannot do for whatever reason they come up with. It is just their mind that kicks in which is not able to understand how some things work. Do not let their mind try to get into yours.

Try to simply understand how this really works since your mind will not like the idea of letting go. It will automatically come up with excuses and reasons to stay and justify certain things. Your mind will simply need to understand this before it will stop to justify its existence.

If you are ready to let go and leave this world behind every moment of your life you will never be disappointed and led into the wrong direction in case something negative happens. You will always be able to handle the truth and the moment you live in.

The same thing goes the other way around. If you are always aware that everything is possible you will never be hold back or even put into shock by disbelief if something positively outstanding takes place. You will be able to let it happen and allow it.

Once you understand the rules of the game, this world is no trick anymore. It is a game that we play. People that are real and true do what they want to do, other people just do what they can.

Why is it so important to let go? Whatever you believe it will happen, as long as you do not believe something else that is a contrary to it.

When you are able to completely free your mind you just are, believe and let things happen.

The Divine And Letting Go

There is just one thing the Divine does. It lets. The Divine does not GIVE. We only give our selves and give to ourselves. The divine just lets. It is about letting, letting in itself.

It is the purest form of love and that is why you are here. You chose to and the Divine simply lets you.

Letting is true love.

True love is letting someone go even if you would rather wanted him to stay. True love is letting your kids learn and experience on their own even though you know better and see the mistakes they make. True love is letting someone do whatever he wants to but still be there for him if he needs you and letting him come close to you if he chooses to, even if that someone made mistakes.

The divine does not try or force anything. It does not have to try. Trying is something that starts in your mind only.

“Common, stop trying to hit me, and hit me!”

-Morpheus to Neo in the sparing fight scene in the movie the Matrix

The Divine lets, it permits but does not actively DO, you do.

The Divine does not decide or make a choice, you do. The Divine only lets it happen.

The Divine lets happen whatever is believed.

To understand your true self you have to do the same thing. Just let, permit. Just let things happen. Let go of everything else that is trying to tell you different.

If you completely free your mind, you are living directly from your soul to everything that is outside of you. Your faith is the connection between these two. Your soul and the outer world. Your mind is not needed anymore. It can be left behind. Of course you will still have a mind but you do not have to be aware of it anymore it will automatically adapt to the state of your soul.

It is then when you do not even have to believe or “try” to believe anymore. You just let it happen. Your faith will be so great that it will turn into knowing. You simply know by living from your soul and then just let things take place.

The truth is that there is no other authority in your life but only yourself. You are the authority here, not your parents, not the science, not the government, not the opinion of other people, not the school teachings, not the trend you are running after, and not even your loved one. Nobody but yourself.

Everything in your life only happens because you let it happen. If you think that this is not true and someone else or something else is letting things happen in your life and to you, then this only takes place because you let that someone or something let things happen in your life and to you.

If you start to think for yourself 100% and do not be a slave to any other opinions, thoughts or ideas out there, you will realize that you are the master in your life and it is then when you do not need anything or anyone to tell you who you are and what you are about to do. Not even this book you are reading right now. You are completely centered with yourself and need nobody to make any decision for you.

It is then when you will realize that you and the divine are one. Your life is your one time chance to understand this and it is your task to do so.

The Two Feelings That Can Make You Or Break You

There are two feelings that completely control you and any other human being on this planet. If you are able to control these 2 feelings instead of letting them control you, you will find that you are far more greater and far more powerful than you could imagine.

Everyones action is based on these 2 very simple feelings so is every other feeling.
Love and Fear.

The only one thing that holds you back and therefore your faith is fear.
The only thing that makes you go and therefore believe is love.

Picture 10: Light And Darkness - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

Fear holds you back, it holds down your faith and turns it into the opposite direction instead. It is the root of all failing, standing still and non believing. Fear actually creates faith into the opposite of what you want or something that you do not want. Fear is believing in something that you do NOT want to believe in.

Love makes you go, it opens up your faith and makes you believe. It is the essence of creating and creation itself.

If you are able to control these two feelings of a person or yourself you will be able to completely control the whole person. Religion itself actually is based upon this. The messiah or god stands for the love that everybody is holding on to or running after and the devil represents the fear of whom everybody is afraid and trying to be save of.

Remember that these two feelings are so powerful they can completely get ahold of your life without you even realizing it. Almost everybody that is not living the life they wish or for some reason not happy has problems with these two feelings without even being aware of it.

To understand how these two powerful emotions work you first have to understand what they really are. True love is not what you think it is and both emotions are far more simple than you might have thought.

True love is not to hold on to someone or something. True love is when your able to let go of something that you are “attracted” to, instead of trying to control it. True love has nothing to do with wanting or trying, never. True love is simply being able to let someone or something be just the way that person or thing is.

Love is letting go.

Fear is holding on to.

Every time you want something, every time you try to change something or somebody, this is only based on some kind of fear. Wanting to be with somebody only is based on the fear of being lonely and not on true love. The reason you are holding on to something is only because you are afraid. Afraid that something could happen, afraid of the possibilities you cannot control, afraid of letting it go.

Holding on to is fear and has nothing to do with love, while true love is being able to let go.

Controlling love and fear and therefore yourself

In order to be able to control yourself and the power of love and fear you have to do the complete opposite of how the average human is dealing with these two emotions.

“If you love something let it go, if it comes back to you it is yours, if it does not it never was”

Earl Simmons

The art is to show love without expecting to get love back. Only then will your love be true and pure.

No more fear will completely set you free, set your soul free. The following quote about fear is from a very old ancient tablet found beneath a Mayan temple in Mexico:

“Know ye, O my brother, that fear is an obstacle great; [...]Hear ye, and heed my wisdom, the voice of LIGHT is clear, seek the valley of shadow and light only will appear.”

*Learn to let go of what you love and step up to what you fear and nothing will be impossible for you.

What is it the one thing someone can love most? Life itself, because everything else that you can love is part of it.

What is the one thing someone can fear the most? Death, because it takes away your life.

Once you get to a point where you do not fear death anymore and are ready to let life go that is when your soul is truly set free. Your life is then based on true love only and you can completely choose to believe what you wish.

It is then when you will realize that love is a present, a gift, so is life and everything else. You cannot want or expect. It is given to you, always. When you do not fear and are ready to let go, and therefore truly love, life is no longer a struggle it is a complete pleasure, bliss, a pure gift, a place in time where you can do whatever you wish.

Life & Death

*I*f there was a lesson that we needed to learn from life and the ending of it, death, what would it be? If there was one thing life and death would be trying to tell us and teach us, what do you think would it be?

Think about it. You die to leave life behind to let go of it. To learn to let go and leave things behind and not to hold on to them. This is something that does not only happen at the end of your life but throughout your whole life.

The older you get the more things you have to leave behind. That is just the nature of life. It is almost like life is trying to tell us something.

If you do not leave your past failures behind you may never succeed, and if you do not leave your past successes behind you may become a “has been”. No one moves towards the past while living in the present.

Life is all about leaving things behind and letting go of them. It is the lesson life is trying to teach us. We do not live to reach or get anything, this is why we will die one day. We live to learn how to love, how to truly love.

True love is not to hold on to things, it is letting go and leaving things behind if you have to. True love is letting go of things that attract you instead of trying to control them.

The moment you try to control something, it only starts to control you instead.

Life and death simply is about leaving things behind and letting go of them. No matter what and who you have in your life, when you die you will have to let go of it. You will always die alone. You have to go alone, everyone will have to leave this world behind on their own, no one will come with you.

The only way to experience life without any struggles is to let go of life before you die, since you will only be able to receive a new life after you gave yours and let go of it. It is something very personal that you can only learn and do on your own.

“There is just 1 struggle and it is now, here on this planet and on a personal level....meaning you only.

There is no enemy you can attack except yourself.

If you are busy attacking something else, you are wasting precious energy and you will fail.

If you succeed, there will be no struggle anymore.”

-the insider

We live to die, to prepare for our own death, to learn to die, to leave this world behind us. Once you are ready to let go of everything and leave this world behind, that very same moment live will be given to you in return. You will be able to enjoy every single moment of life, let thing come to you instead of trying to chase anything. It will be impossible to disappoint you and live will be a complete pleasure and full of joy.

Struggle only takes place when you can not let go of something that is taken away from you. This is how drama starts. It is then when people start to do things they never meant to do. They are not able to deal with the pain.

However it was not drama or bad things happening to them that made them feel pain. It was only themselves since they are not able to let go of what they think they „really“ love.

When you love something the thing you most fear is that you loose what you love. Yet this is what we are here for. Each and everyone of us has to learn it. That is why we die.

You need to learn to love without any fear at all. Be ready to let go of all the bad things in your life as well as all that you love.

What is the reason for us struggling?

The hardest times you can be in, in this life, is when you are completely on your own. When you have to deal with all the struggle and difficulties going on in your life by yourself. When nobody is there to help. That is when a person is putting everything and everybody in question.

Picture 11: The Cave - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

Yet this is also the time when you start to believe in yourself only and go the path that was paved and meant for you. That is the time when other peoples beliefs do not matter anymore. It is the time someone starts to truly think for themselves and make up their own mind.

Every failure brings with it the seed of an equivalent advantage.

Be ready to take up the new advantage and leave the failure behind.

What about wars and all the drama in this world?

 This is a topic that must not be here for you to grow or achieve, however since many people are interested in this a lot and often ask themselves why this world is so corrupt and wrong things are taking place, I will only shortly go into it in detail. So you can try to better understand what is going on in the world, and especially why and the reason for it.

As said above your mind is only looking for reason and if you are able to truly let go you will not need to find a reason for anything nor for all the bad stuff that is going on in the world. However letting go is often not as easy as it seems and understanding certain things will help you a lot.

“Earth is a prison.

The ones who believe the contrary will never escape” - the insider

Imagine if this was a perfect world, blissful, serene, peaceful with no wars or conflict or suffering. Would we ever question its reality? Would we ever try to understand life on a different level? Would we even create and invent things to make our life more pleasant or get rid of certain things?

After all, every invention is based on a problem it is trying to solve.

Wars, drama and bad things in this world happen for us to compare the good and the bad and so we can start to doubt the reason for all this.

Only in moments of extreme anguish do we realise that perhaps this is not right, and then have the desire to escape.

The Divine is not based on comparing and reason. There is no reason for this in a way you think it is. It is only in your mind, which is a tool you use to see the differences between things. You will eventually leave it behind, when you die at the latest.

It will ultimately lead to you returning back to your true essence once your soul is ready to.

Picture 12: Return to Evergreen – Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

So Why Does The Mountain Not Move Then?

You want to know why that mountain is not moving? Because you do not truly believe it is possible. For your mind it is so hard to accept this, since everything else you have on your mind completely goes against literally moving mountains. Your mind simply compares your experiences, pictures, rules, what you have learned, and so on, with your belief that you could move mountains and rejects the idea of being able to move mountains as there is more evidence for the other things on your mind.

Picture 13: Angel's Peak - Digital Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

You do not truly believe you can move mountains, you only believe what your own mind tells you, which told you it is not possible. Simply because there is more evidence for it not being possible, does not mean that it is not. Every time your mind starts to compare anything you only limit yourself to the reasoning of your mind, yet your soul is unlimited and infinite. Free your mind first then believe.

Simply by asking the question, “Why is the mountain not moving?”, you already show that you do not truly believe that faith can move mountains. Only asking this question implies that you are looking for a reason why the mountain does not move instead of trying to pay attention to see the mountain move.

This world does not need to compare and look for evidence to exist, nor does it need a reason for it, only your mind does. This is what your mind is and how it works. If you are able to completely free your mind from contrary beliefs and truly have faith from within your soul that the mountain moves, it will.

It takes a lot of 'letting go' since moving a mountain literally by just believing it, completely goes against almost everything you have ever learned in your life and therefore against any other belief that is in some way connected to it. If your faith is contrary to one of your other beliefs you will not get the result you want.

Whether it is the law of physics or simply believing yourself to be too small to do so, you will have to let go of these beliefs first and see that your true potential and the possibilities of this world are completely unlimited, eternal and infinite. Only then will your faith be true and pure.

If there is just one little belief or one tiny bit of doubt within yourself to truly move a mountain, you put a limit on yourself and no matter how hard you try to believe, you then will not be able to do it.

This is why it is so important to let go and completely free your mind before doing anything else.

A bird can only fly when it lets go of the tree.

When in your mind it is not possible, once you let go of the by you accepted fact that it is not possible to move the mountain only then will you be able to truly believe you can move the mountain. And only then you can move the mountain, because then there will no longer be a different belief you have to conflict with what you want to believe.

You should have only one belief at all. That anything is possible. Faith is a way to open you up, but having a particular belief will automatically limit you and therefore block something else you might want to believe.

Remember: What you believe will become and what you know is.

Does it have limits?

No. No limits at all. Everything is possible. Your faith can truly move mountains. Do not believe it? That is why the mountain is not moving.

Yet, if one of your beliefs is contrary to another one, only one of the two will ever have a chance to be.

It takes complete mastery of yourself, your true self. Is it impossible, no. Is it hard to do, only if you believe it is. Are there others who have done it before?

You should not ask this question, as it is only your mind looking for evidence that it is possible when truly your soul already knows that it is. However I can still give you an example of a well known man.

Jesus Walks On The Water

22 *I*mmediately Jesus made the disciples get into the boat and go on ahead of him to the other side, while he dismissed the crowd. 23After he had dismissed them, he went up on a mountainside by himself to pray. When evening came, he was there alone, 24but the boat was already a considerable distance from land, buffeted by the waves because the wind was against it.

25During the fourth watch of the night Jesus went out to them, walking on the lake.

26When the disciples saw him walking on the lake, they were terrified. "It is a ghost," they said, and cried out in fear.

27But Jesus immediately said to them: "Take courage! It is I. Don't be afraid."

28"Lord, if it is you," Peter replied, "tell me to come to you on the water."

29"Come," he said.

Then Peter got down out of the boat, walked on the water and came toward Jesus. 30But when he saw the wind, he was afraid and, beginning to sink, cried out, "Lord, save me!"

31Immediately Jesus reached out his hand and caught him. "You of little faith," he said, "why did you doubt?"

(Matthew 14:22-31)

Jesus did not try to walk on water, that would be impossible since trying requires your mind to go against something that you already believe and are convinced of. Your mind would instantly tell you it is not working. Once you would try to walk on water your mind would kick in an start to find a way to do so. Your mind would automatically start to compare the elements involved. Yet your mind accepted that water is liquid and not as dense as ground and therefore will find that it is impossible for you to do so. You would instantly sink.

Jesus was able to walk on water because he was able to free his mind to such a level that for him such rules did not exist anymore and he could then just believe to walk on water and simply did so. His mind did not rebell against his belief since his mind was free and his faith to do so was greater than anything else given to his mind.

“Why did you doubt?”, is what Jesus asked Peter when he sank. Peters mind popped in and started to doubt. That is why he sank. Jesus did not his mind was free.

For Peter to be able to even walk on the lake he had not to be afraid at all.

“²⁷But Jesus immediately said to them: "Take courage! It is I. Don't be afraid." ... ³⁰But when he saw the wind, he was afraid and, beginning to sink, cried out, "Lord, save me!"

³¹Immediately Jesus reached out his hand and caught him. "You of little faith," he said, "why did you doubt?"

Peter's faith was too little and not great enough. That is why his mind started to doubt. It is only your mind that is able to doubt, no other part of you can do this. It is therefore essential to free your mind and let go of everything, in order to be able to do something that your mind currently can only identify as a miracle.

Faith in itself does exactly this. It is so powerful it can overcome your mind in an instance and make you do things you only have dreamed of. Faith in itself can overcome any reasoning, doubting, fear or whatever holds you back to achieve what you dream of.

What really happens when you let go, is that your doubts, fears and reasons will be ultimately replaced by faith that fits your true self and the current state of your soul which has just changed some to the positive the moment you let go.

What Jesus Says About Faith

 Then Jesus said to him, “If you are able?’ 33All things are possible for the one who believes.” (Mark 9:23)

28When he went into the house, the blind men came to him. Jesus said to them, “Do you believe that I am able to do this?” They said to him, “Yes, Lord.” 29Then he touched their eyes saying, “Let it be done for you according to your faith.” 30And their eyes were opened. (Matthew 9:28-30)

“... if you have faith the size of a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, ‘Move from here to there,’ and it will move; nothing will be impossible for you.” (Matthew 17:20)

The Parable of the Mustard Seed

“It is like a mustard seed that when sown in the ground, even though it is the smallest of all the seeds in the ground – 32when it is sown, it grows up, becomes the greatest of all garden plants, and grows large branches so that the wild birds can nest in its shade.” (Mark 4:31-32)

Faith is when you are completely calm. When you are totally fearless and not afraid at all. Faith is when you are totally centered with yourself and you have total confidence in the moment and do not try to talk you into something or make you do something.

It is when you simply act instead of talking about acting and when you do not regret but let the past be, when you are ready for the future every single moment of the now. It is when you are sure of yourself and the world.

Faith calms your mind down and is quiet. It slows down time, almost makes it stop and feels like the world stands still. It is when you are and know what direction you go to instead of trying to be, not really knowing where you will end up. Faith is calm and quiet and will work best when your mind is free.

Remember (Some Tips and Rules)

-This world and how you see it is only a reflection of your true self. -

-Faith in itself is just another tool like your mind. Let your faith be like a mustard seed.-

-Temet Nosce! Know Thyself-

-You do not truly know someone until you fight them.-

- Be true, for being otherwise you will only lie to yourself. -

“On life's journey faith is nourishment, virtuous deeds are a shelter, wisdom is the light by day and right mindfulness is the protection by night. If a man lives a pure life, nothing can destroy him.”

-Buddha

"When a man has put a limit on what he will do, he has put a limit on what he can do."

- Charles Schwab

“You will not be punished for your anger, you will be punished by your anger.”

-Buddha

“Do not believe, just because wise men say so.
Do not believe, just because it has always been that way.
Do not believe, just because others may believe so.

Examine and experience yourself.”

-Buddha

Do not judge or asses anybody. Just let them be, for it is not your task to show them the way, it is their own.

Choose wisely, for every decision will have a consequence that determines your future. Be ready to handle it.

Take time to find yourself, for only when being your true self you can walk your own path and do what you want to do.

Never forget where you come from, for you will only forget who you are today.

Do not deny yourself, for you only kill a part of yourself.

Why You Must Follow Your Dreams

You think your dream is just that, a dream? Well this book should be enough to make you think the opposite. By reading this book you should know that there are no limits or boundaries. People often need to know that there is a reason for something otherwise they do not understand things and their mind will not accept it. May be there is a reason for why we have dreams as well? Do you really think we have dreams “just because”?

There is only one way I know of that will make you realize the truth more than anything else. You must follow your dreams.

What a lot of us consider positive people, they say it all the time: “Follow your dreams!” While the ones who many consider negative will tell you the exact opposite: “Do not even try, you will not make it” or “Better stay on the save side of life you will not know what will happen or how things will go”.

Picture 14: Dream On - Digitla Art by Tiberius "Suirebit" Viris

There is not one person however who should be able to tell you what to do. The only person who can truly know your dreams is yourself. And the only person to tell you whether you want to follow these is yourself also. It is up to you to choose your path but no matter which way you will go, it will affect you and your life, may be more than anything else. If you choose one way or another, it will always have a consequence. Be ready to accept it.

If you do not follow your dreams, the truth is that you will always deny yourself and the true essence of yourself. You will become what other people want you to be instead of what you want and want to be yourself. So you will never be able to find and return to your true self. Nor will you ever be able to find out what you are truly capable of.

“If one is the master of one thing and understands one thing well, one has at the same time insight into and understanding of many things.”

Vincent Van Gogh

Your dreams are the only thing, that you believe in, that is not “given” or “already there”. Most people do not follow their dreams because they think that what other people tell them would be the better choice. However what they tell you is only based on their experience or even the experience of someone else that told them. If nobody tries to go beyond, how would great things ever be possible?

Following your dreams will free your mind and make you realize the truth. Everything else will not do this as you only follow a belief that came from the “Matrix”, the world out there that “already is”.

It is the only way to find to yourself as your dreams come from within you and not somewhere from the world out there that “already is”.

It is true that man can create anything that he can imagine. However it is hard for most of us to believe this. Following your dreams will lead you to exactly that point. Knowing that it is possible to create whatever you can imagine.

You must follow your dreams because what YOU choose to is the only way to understand how the world and yourself works.

When doing what other people, the society, etc. tell you to do and accepting what is already there, you will never figure out how “the game” really works.

“This cannot be told, it must be discovered, for it has no power if it is revealed to one.”

-the Insider

Not trying to follow your own dreams you would forever be trapped in a world or state that is limited to other peoples opinion, other circumstances and other influences from the outside. Whether in this place or the place your soul will be when your life here is coming to an end.

“Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate. Our deepest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure. It is our light, not our darkness that most frightens us. We ask ourselves, Who am I to be brilliant, gorgeous, talented, fabulous? Actually, who are you not to be? You are a child of God. Your playing small does not serve the world. There is nothing enlightened about shrinking so that other people won't feel insecure around you. We are all meant to shine, as children do. We were born to make manifest the glory of God that is within us. It's not just in some of us; it's in everyone. And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same. As we are liberated from our own fear, our presence automatically liberates others.”

Marianne Williamson

End Paragraph

There is something every person on this planet has in common. The way that is in front of their true self. Although that way is a totally different way for each and everyone of us, it leads to the same destination.

Everyone of us has to go through it. Everyone has to learn it. That is the reason why we are here. The reason why God, ourselves, Allah or whoever you believe is responsible for it has put us on this place called earth. Each and everyone of us has to learn the same thing but in its own individual way, as we are all unique.

I cannot tell you what you have to do in you life, nor can the society or anyone in your environment tell you, only you can. You are the only one that truly knows or can truly know yourself. All I can tell you that what you have to do is what you really want to do. Only living your dreams and wishes will set you totally free.

The truth is you already know what you have to do, it is what you want to do. All you have to do is go out and do it. Faith is what will take you there. Just be yourself and do what you want to do, be free.

Is it really possible?
Why do you ask that Question?
Because I want to know.
You already do know, but can you believe?

Why This Is The Most Unimportant Inessential Book In Your Life

Maybe you have figured it out on your own by now.

This book is not trying to tell you anything and give or impose any belief on you. It is only trying to free you to be who you truly are.

It is a gift and it is trying to let you be whatever and whoever you wish to be.

What is written here does NOT matter, what matters are you and what you believe, for no one can impose any faith into you except for what you choose to believe, not even this book. You are the only authority and nobody and nothing else.

Really, this book is just another perspective. Make of it as you wish.

So what is the truth?

There is no truth except for what you believe it is.

Website/Forum Notice

You are invited to talk about this eBook and discuss the content of it at the official Discover The Divine Truth Forum. I am sure that you will enjoy finding people alike and being able to talk about it with other readers.

<http://www.discoverthedivinetruth.com/forum/>

The official website can be found at <http://www.discoverthedivinetruth.com>

The official blog can be found at <http://www.discoverthedivinetruth.com/discover-the-divine-truth-blog/>

Disclaimer

This eBook may not be shared, given away or sold in any form. It may not be offered as download over the internet in any form. If you have received this eBook from somewhere else than <http://www.discoverthedivinetruth.com> please inform me at tino@discoverthedivinetruth.com - Thank you so much.

Legal actions will be taken against anyone sharing or offering this eBook in any shape or form.

A lot of work went into this so if you wish to share it with a friend or recommend it to please refer them to <http://www.discoverthedivinetruth.com> - Thank you so much

Copyright Notice

All written Text in this eBook is Copyrighted by the owner of DiscoverTheDivineTruth.com. The text is protected under international law and may not be copied and used in any way or form without prior written permission.
All digital art is copyrighted by Suirebit.

Pictures/Digital Art

All pictures of digital art created by Suirebit. All pictures used with the permission of Suirebit.

<http://www.suirebit.net>

Picture 1: A Divnity Concept

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/24091357/>

Picture 2: The Phoenix

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/15859202/>

Picture 3: Exotic 3 – The Cave

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/57588108/>

Picture 4: A Guardian Angel

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/40377493/>

Picture 5: Twilight and Shadow

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/41604338/>

Picture 6: Artelesia III

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/33547441/>

Picture 7: Ice Spirit

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/15793422/>

Picture 8: God of Thunder

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/56917433/>

Picture 9: The Revelation

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/52566969/>

Picture 10: Light And Darkness

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/31160806/>

Picture 11: The Cave

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/57588108/>

Picture 12: Return To Evergreen

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/44391417/>

Picture 13: Angel's Peak

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/45386008/>

Picture 14: Dream On

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/36260297/>

